

MTS Training Exercise 5.02

Circle of 5

Exercise

To cultivate a circle of relationships with people from our day to day living with the aim of preaching Christ to them.

Rationale

Apprentices are training to be ministers of the gospel, evangelists. This is our daily work, this is our role in the world. When you look in the mirror, you are looking at an evangelist. We evangelise in many different contexts throughout the week, in large groups, small groups and personally. If we are not regularly proclaiming the gospel and inviting people to faith while on MTS, we will be unlikely to do it in our long term ministry.

Aims

1. To help Apprentices build evangelism into their day to day living
2. To learn to take every opportunity to proclaim the gospel.

Bible Study

Do a Bible study from I Corinthians 9:19-27; Colossians 4:1-6; Titus 2; I Peter 3: 13-17

Method

1. Shopkeeper Evangelism

Trainer and Apprentice work together to evangelise a local shopkeeper.

2. Sphere of Contact

List all people in your sphere of contact, those you who have contact with in the normal activities of life. Think of family, work, friends, shops and services etc.

3. Nature of Relationship

For those in your sphere of contact, how would you describe the relationship? How well do you know them? How much personal contact do you have?

Rank each one A, B, C.

A = good friendship / potential for friendship

B = some personal relationship

C = little personal relationship

4. Circle of 5

5. Prayer

Pray daily for your Circle of 5

6. Meaningful Conversation

Aim to have a meaningful conversation with each one, not about the gospel but anything else. With many contacts we have never talked about anything seriously, let alone their eternal prospects.

7. Socialise

Plan social time outside of the routine contact, preferably with other Christians

8. Understanding People

One distinctive of Christian love is the sincere interest we take in others. Part of this is listening and understanding what makes them tick. For each in your Circle of 5 work out:

What are their interests?

What are their beliefs and values?

What influences have shaped them?

What motivates them?

What persuades them something is true: logic, people or experience?

What is their religious background and how has it affected them?

What do they know about Christianity?

What is their attitude to Christianity?

What are obstacles to faith and repentance for them?

What are their 'entry points' or 'open nerves' for the gospel?(fear of death, boredom, suffering, loneliness, anxiety, need a cause, guilt, family breakdown, addiction, awareness of supernatural)

9. Conversation Starters

Use current affairs, workplace issues, ethical issues, etc to develop conversation starters to arouse curiosity in Christ.
